PREFACE.

#5.00
J. A. Cannon -

This volume contains an account of the family or families named in the title page and of their descendants. The full work, in five parts, contains all that is known to the compiler concerning the Clark, Parks, Brockman and Dean families and their descendants, his ancestors and kindred; and of the Davis and Goss families and their descendants, the ancestors and kindred of his beloved wife, now deceased.

The separate parts are: No. I. The Clark Family; No. II. The Parks Family; No. III. The Brockman and Dean Families; No. IV. The Davis Family, and No. V. The Goss Family.

He engaged in the work with no intention of publishing it, but instead he intended simply to leave a manuscript copy to his children. After many inquiries as to his purpose, and with expressions of desire from many persons to possess a copy, he determined to publish it in book form. He so announced, enlarged the scope, invoked the aid of his friends, and has devoted much time and patient labor collecting information for use in its preparation. The work has assumed proportions greatly beyond his expectation.

The chronology of persons and families has had special attention. This, however, is not the highest function of genealogy, valuable though it be in tracing and proving a line of descent and relationship, but it is the preserving and presenting to our contemplation the lives and real character of our ancestors and kindred. This has been kept prominent and becomes therefore an interesting feature of the work.

Each of the several parts of the work comprises a distinct line, and the persons are named in the order of birth, so far as the facts were obtainable. In some of the parts eight generations are accounted for.

There is a system of reference by numbers, thus enabling one with facility to trace the lineage and ascertain the exact relationship of any person named in the book with any other person. There are some remarkable genealogical tracings, degrees of relationship, the result of inter-marriage in related families, and some of these it will be found impracticable to define.

There are a number of pages arranged for continuing the family record in direct line of descent. Thus may be added many generations and so the work will become an heirloom of value in the coming centuries.

The work has been to the compiler a labor of love rather than profit. If he has succeeded in rescuing from oblivion the names and deeds of some of his ancestors and numerous kindred, he will in some measure be compensated for his arduous labor, and though his success has not been commensurate with his wishes and efforts, he trusts his labors have not been in vain. It is a matter of regret that not only the names of some but the deeds of many equally worthy have not been obtained for use in its preparation. He is greatly indebted, however, to his friends for the prompt manner in which many of them have responded to his request for information, and for words of cheer and encouragement, and to these is largely due whatever of success he has achieved. He wishes especially to acknowledge his obligation to his esteemed friend and kinswoman, Mrs. Alfred W. Parks, of Clifton, S. C., for information relating to the Parks family; to his friend, his wife's kinsman, Dr. J. D. Garrard, late of Birmingham, Ala., for information relating to the Davis and Goss families; to Dr. Thomas M. Owen, Director of the Department of Archives and History of Alabama, for courteous and generous aid in the preparation of the work; and finally to his very dear mother, but for whose intelligence and great strength of memory he should never have known so much of his ancestry and collateral kindred.

To his mother he dedicates the work in loving and tender memory and affection.

HENRY W. CLARK.

THE CLARK FAMILY.

ORIGIN OF THE NAME.

The name "Clark" is of distinguished derivation. The following account of its origin, prepared by Eleanor Lexington, will therefore form an interesting introduction to the genealogy of the particular family here treated:

"The name Clark is derived from 'clericus,' meaning a priest, or one connected with the service of the Church.

"At first the term was used only to designate those in clerical orders, but as in early times the Church was the only source of learning, any person who had been educated by the clergy eventually came to be called a 'clerk.' The designation was finally given to all who were able to read and write.

"So distinguished a name was eagerly coveted. Hence its frequency, many people adding 'le clerk' to their names. This was finally dropped, and only Clerk left, or, as it was pronounced, Clark. The final 'e' is an addition in later times.

"Compounds of the name are Beauclark, the good Clark; Mauclerk, the bad Clark; Kenclerk, the knowing Clark; and Petyclerk, the little Clark.

"The name Milo le Clerk is found in the 'One Hundred Rolls,' compiled in the reign of Edward I., which contain records of the persons who owned lands in the time of William the Conqueror, for which they paid rent in money, sheep or hens, or gave their service as soldiers. Several Domesday tenants are designated 'Clericus.'

"An interesting tradition connects the Clark family by marriage with that of the descendants of Joseph of Arimathea. After the Crucifixion, Joseph was banished from Judea. In company with Philip the Apostle, Mary, Martha, Lazarus and a servant, Marcella, he was put into a vessel without sails or oars and set adrift, to perish on the sea. The ship was thrown upon the French coast. Joseph finally found his way to Britain, where he founded a church at Glastonbury, to which place thousands of the devout, in the Middle Ages, journeyed every year to see the blossoming of the sacred thorn on Christmas day.

"Upon what authority the tradition of the connection of the family of Clark with Joseph rests, history maintains a discreet silence. It gives the tradition, and leaves the rest to the imagination."

FIRST GENERATION.

1.

The earliest account we have of the Clark family is of four brothers and one sister, descendants of English ancestry, the date of whose emigration to America is not known. These were all born in Amelia Co., Va., and were:

Thomas, William, Dudley, George and Nancy. Nancy married a Greenwood in N. C.

We have no further knowledge of these except Thomas, the eldest, who was born about 1753 and who married a widow, Priscilla Tucker, of N. C., whose maiden name was Doyle.

THOMAS CLARK was a farmer though a man of small means. He left Va. and settled in N. C., where he remained some years and then moved to Spartanburg district, S. C., and later on to Laurens district, where he lived about twenty years, and was then removed with his wife to the State of Ga. by his son John. He died at the home of his son William, in Newton county, Ga., in 1837, aged eighty-four years. The widow died some years later at the home of John Clark, in Jasper county, Ga., about ninety years of age. They were buried in the family graveyard at the home of William Clark in Newton county, Ga.

Priscilla Tucker Clark had two brothers and one sister, James, John and Sallie Doyle. Of these we have no information. There were born to her by her first husband, Tucker, one son and three daughters: Starling, Fanny, Martha and Mary. Of these we will give a further account later. (See Appendix No. 216.)

The children of Thomas Clark and his wife Priscilla were:

2.           i. ELIZABETH DOYLE, b. Mar. 25, 1775; m. John Wallace.
3.           ii. GILLAM, b. about 1777; m. Nancy Waldrop.
4.           iii. JOHN, b. Nov. 19, 1780; m. Susan Parks.
5.           iv. WILLIAM, b. Aug. 21, 1782; m. Judith Craddock.
6.           v. NANCY, b. about 1784; m. Henry Burdett.

SECOND GENERATION.

2.

ELIZABETH DOYLE<sup>2</sup> CLARK (1) was born in N. C., Mar. 25, 1775, and married John Wallace, a farmer of Laurens district, S. C., Mar. 19, 1796.

Mr. Wallace was born in 1774 and died Aug. 6, 1824. Mrs. Wallace died Oct. 24, 1854, at the home of her son Walton in Chambers Co., Ala. Their children were six sons and five daughters (order of birth conjectural):

- i. STARLING<sup>3</sup>, b. Jan. 11, 17—; d. May 4, 1810.
- ii. THOMAS DOYLE, b. Mar. 15, 1800; d. Aug. 20, 1802.
- 7. iii. WALTON WASHINGTON, b. Jan. 17, 1803; m. Nancy McVeigh.
- iv. FRANCES, b. —— ——; m. Henry Holcom in Laurens district, S. C. They moved to Buncombe Co., N. C.
- v. ODELIA, b. —— ——; never married; lived with her widowed sister, Mrs. William Sims, in Newton Co., Ga., for many years.
- 8. vi. ALFRED COTESWORTH, b. Mar. 24, 1809; d. July 26, 1826.
- vii. JOHN WELSEY, b. Mar. 31, 1811; m. Louisa A. Felder.
- viii. ELIZA, b. —— ——; m. Wm. Sims; d. Dec. 31, 1891.
(See Appendix No. 217.)
- 9. ix. SELENA MIRA, b. 1814; m. Noah Fairbairn.
- x. LOUISA, m. James Blakely. They moved to Miss.
- xi. WELSEY WILDS, m. Miss Rutherford, of Rutherford Co., N. C. They moved to Miss., and d. after the Civil War, he in Miss. and she in Ark.

3.

GILLAM<sup>2</sup> CLARK (1) was born in N. C. about 1777 and at about twenty years of age married Nancy Waldrop in the State of S. C. There were born to this union seven or eight children. One of these, James, lived one year with his uncle, William Clark, in Newton Co., Ga., about 1835 to 1838. Gillam with his family moved to Ala. and settled near Huntsville. His wife died and he married again. It is thought the family moved to Miss. We have lost all trace of them.

4.

JOHN<sup>2</sup> CLARK (1) was born in N. C., Nov. 19, 1780, and received a good common school education. In early life he emigrated to S. C., settling in Laurens district, and about 1806 was elected to the office of sheriff, and was re-elected and succeeded himself for several terms, serving seven or more years. He was called the HIGH SHERIFF, and as was the custom at that day, preceded the Judge of the Court to and from the Court House with drawn sword and cocked hat in vindication of the law, an English custom. He was a volunteer soldier in the war of 1812 between the United States and Great Britain, as shown by the following from the War Department:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
BUREAU OF PENSIONS,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 14, 1902.

SIR: In reply to your communication of recent date, you are advised that, as shown by the records of this Bureau, Susan Clark was pensioned as the widow of John Clark on account of his service in Capt. N. T. Martin's company, South Carolina Militia, from February 1, 1814, to August 10, 1814, War of 1812.

Very respectfully,

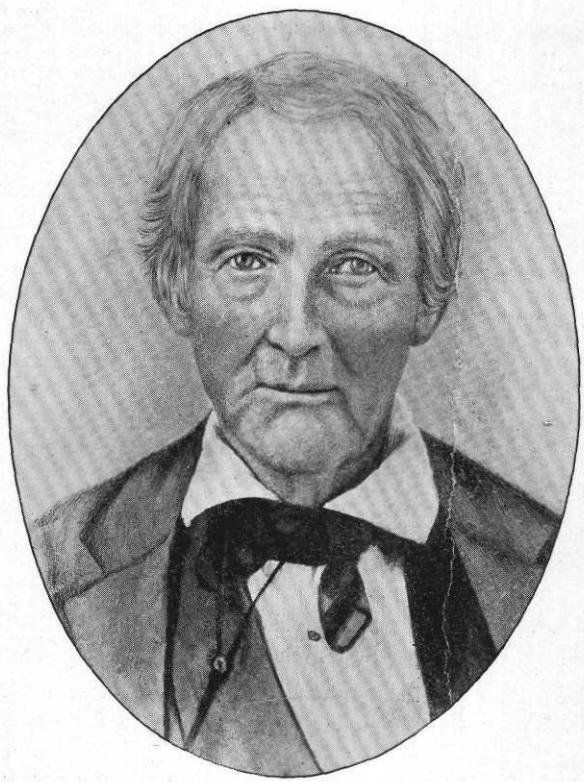

E. S. WARE,
Commissioner.

MR. H. W. CLARK,
222 Columbus St.,
Montgomery, Ala.

Returning from the war he stopped with a comrade, one Parks, at the home of his parents, and there met his fate in the person of Susan, a sister of his comrade and daughter of Thomas and Annie Parks, of Laurens district, S. C. Feb. 25, 1816, he and Susan Parks were united in marriage at the home of her parents.

They remained in Laurens district about fourteen years, where he was engaged at farming near the Enoree River, his farm being on Durban's Creek, a tributary of that stream. In the latter part of 1829 he with his family moved to the State of Ga., resided one year in Newton Co., and then settled in Jasper Co., where he had purchased a home and farm.

John Clark owned and had emancipated, as a result of the Civil War, about fifty negro slaves. He was a humane master, fed and clothed his slaves well and allotted them small parcels of land and opportunities to cultivate the same for their own use. After his slaves were emancipated most of them remained about him and cultivated his lands and were ever respectful to old master and old mistis. Notably one of these, a man named Gilbert, was a powerful man physically and was a most valuable slave as an ordinary farm laborer. He and his good wife, Minerva, two Christian-hearted negroes, were, after they were emancipated, good friends and neighbors of their former owners, ever ready to do them any service. John Clark was a life-long partisan Democrat. He was never an aspirant for political office, never very active in political work, but kept well informed on the political issues of his day and time, and always gave loyal support to the nominees of his party. At the solicitation of his neighbors he accepted the office of magistrate for his precinct, served in that capacity for many years and made an enviable reputation for impartial, intelligent and faithful discharge of official duty. He died Nov. 27, 1870, at the advanced age of ninety years and eight days, and was buried in the family graveyard at the family homestead, where they had resided for forty years.

Mrs. Susan (Parks) Clark was born in Laurens district, S. C., Feb. 24, 1796. She was one of the best housewives it is the fortune of man to be blest with. Intelligent and entertaining, with a happy faculty for making friends; as housekeeper, industrious and skilled in domestic handcraft; a congenial companion and true helpmeet. She was ever solicitous for the success in life and happiness of her children, ever ready by precept and example, and by word of cheer to lure them on to honorable and useful lives. She lived and suffered and loved and lost and dreamed and struggled to attain till she grew rich throughout and ripened and matured like a fruit. She was a woman of truth, repose, experience, feeling and grasp. A sister to your labor, a valiant comrade in the great battle of life; a woman of strength like a gulf stream to your love. She was a sympathetic and helpful neighbor, ever ready to go to the aid of the afflicted, ever found beside the bed of her sick neighbor as nurse and counselor; a true minister of mercy. In her later life, and before she was herself stricken with paralysis, much of her time was given to the noble work of ministering to the sick of her community, and she so left a halo of grateful memory about the last years of her long and useful life, and though dead for more than twenty years the fragrance of her life still lingers in the community in which she lived. The memory of such a woman deserves to be cherished lovingly and tenderly; she is an inspiration, the hope of the world. She died Aug. 5, 1880, after some years of patient suffering from paralysis, aged 84 years and 11 days, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary L. Pope, near Monticello, Ga., who had tenderly and lovingly ministered to her in her affliction. She was buried beside her husband in the family graveyard at the old homestead, her home for half a century. The religion of the family was Baptist. Their children were:

- 10. i. COURTNEY JAMES<sup>8</sup>, b. Oct. 27, 1816; m. Nancy Walker Davis.
- 11. ii. THOMAS FRANKLIN, b. Feb. 21, 1818; twice m.
- 12. iii. AVALINE FRANCES, b. Sept. 30, 1819; d. Oct., 1846.
- 13. iv. MATILDA CAROLINE, b. Mar. 20, 1821; d. Mar. 31, 1825.
- 14. v. NANCY AMELIA, b. Sept. 30, 1822; m. Dr. T. W. Sims.
- 15. vi. ELOISA ANN, b. Dec. 11, 1823; m. J. G. McNair.
- 16. vii. HENRY WILLIAM, b. May 22, 1825; m. Mary S. Wright.
- 17. viii. MARY LUCY, b. Mar. 1, 1827; J. C. Pope.
- 18. ix. MARTHA SUSAN, b. Mar. 1, 1827; m. B. J. Flowers.
- 19. x. HARRIET ELIZABETH, b. Oct. 8, 1828; m. Hopson Pope.
- 20. xi. JOHN PARKS, b. Feb. 15, 1830; m. Mary E. Marks.
- 21. xii. EMILY JUDITH, b. May 24, 1831; twice m.
- 22. xiii. JULIA PATTERSON, b. June 18, 1833; m. Dr. Miller Francis.
- 23. xiv. ALBERT WARNER, b. Aug. 22, 1835; d. Aug. 27, 1835.
- 24. xv. ELVIRA MINERVA, b. Jan. 17, 1837; d. Jan. 29, 1837.
- 25. xvi. HARVEY TUCKER, b. May 2, 1838; m. E. S. Locke.
- xvii. ELMIRA CAROLINE, b. Mar. 8, 1841; m. Capt. Frank Gentry.

THE WILL OF JOHN CLARK.

STATE OF GEORGIA, } In the name of God. Amen.
Jasper County.

I, John Clark, of the said State and county, aforesaid, being of advanced age and knowing that I must shortly depart this life deem it right and proper both as respects my family and myself, that I should make a disposition of the property with which a kind providence has blessed me.

1st Item. I desire and direct that my body be buried in a decent and Christian-like manner suitable to my circumstances and condition of life; my soul I trust shall return to God, who gave it, as I hope for eternal salvation through the merits and atonement of the blessed Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

2nd Item. I desire and direct that all of my just debts be paid.

3rd Item. I give, bequeath and devise to my beloved wife, Susan, all the lands that I now possess, (to wit), that tract of land and plantation whereon I now live, containing six hundred and thirty acres (630) more or less, lying on the east side of the Alcoooghatchie River; also the tract and plantation of the west side of said River, containing one hundred and ninety-seven (197) acres more or less; also the tract of land and plantation, containing one hundred and thirty-three acres (133) more or less, joining lands of R. C. Barnes, B. T. Digby, M. H. Hutchinson's.

I also give and bequeath to my wife Susan a negro, Gilbert, a woman, Minerva, and their son, Joseph; also a negro man Jim, a negro woman Sarah and her two children Hannah and Jennie; also Nicey and her child Henry. I also give to my wife Susan, all my stock of horses, mules, cattle, hogs, sheep and goats; all the farming utensils used on and belonging to the plantation of every description whatever; also my four horse wagon, two horse wagon, two buggies, all the household and kitchen furniture of every description, cotton Gin, Wheat Fan and Thrasher, blacksmith tools, all the corn, cotton, wheat, oats, bacon, all the growing crops, and all the money that I may have on hand at the time of my death; also all notes and evidences of debt.

4th Item. I give and bequeath to my son Courtney J. Clark, one-fourteenth part of my estate after deducting what he has already received of my estate.*

5th Item. I give and bequeath to my son, Thomas F. Clark, one-fourteenth part of my estate after deducting what he has already received of my estate.

6th Item. I give to my son, John P. Clark, in trust for the sole and separate use of my daughter Nancy A. Sims, wife of Thomas W. Sims, during her life, and after her death to her children, (and to the representatives of such as may be dead) one-fourteenth part of my estate, after deducting what she has already received of my estate.

7th Item. I give to my son, John P. Clark, in trust for the sole and separate use of my daughter Eloisa A. McNair, wife of John G. McNair, during her life, and after her death to her children, and the representatives of such as may be dead, the one-fourteenth part of my estate, after deducting what she has already received of my estate.

Item 8th. I give and bequeath to my son, Henry W. Clark, one-fourteenth part of my estate, after deducting what he has already received of my estate.

9th Item. I give to my son John P. Clark in trust for the separate use of my daughter Mary L. Pope, wife of John C. Pope, during her life, and after her death to her children and the representatives of such as may be dead, one-fourteenth part of my estate after deducting what she has already received of my estate.

Item 10th. I give to my son John P. Clark, for the sole and separate use of my daughter Martha S. Flowers, wife of Benjamin J. Flowers, during her life and after her death to her children, (and the representatives of such as may be dead) one-fourteenth part of my estate, after deducting what she has already received of my estate.

Item 11th. I give to my son John P. Clark, in trust for the sole and separate use of my daughter Harriet E. Pope, wife of Hopson Pope, during her life (and after her death to her children, and the representatives of such as may be dead) one-fourteenth part of my estate, after deducting what she has already received of my estate.

Item 12th. I give to my son John P. Clark in trust for the sole and separate use of my daughter Emily J. Brooks, wife of Robert J. Brooks, during her life (and after her death to her children, and the representatives of such as may be dead), one-fourteenth part of my estate, after deducting what she has already had of my estate.

Item 13th. I give to my son John P. Clark in trust for the sole and separate use of my daughter Julia P. Francis, wife of Miller W. Francis, during her life (and after her death to her children and the representatives of such as may be dead) one-fourteenth part of my estate, after deducting what she has already had of my estate.

Item 14th. I give and bequeath to my son John P. Clark one-fourteenth part of my estate after deducting what he has already had of my estate.

Item 15th. I give and bequeath to my son Harvey T. Clark one-fourteenth part of my estate after deducting what he has already had of my estate.

* The testator kept a record, book of accounts, in which were charged to his children, the several amounts in money or estimated value of property given them during his lifetime, and it is to this he refers when he says "deducting what he has already received," meaning to be taken into account on final settlement and distribution of his estate.

Item 16th. I give to my son John P. Clark in trust for the sole and separate use of my daughter Elmira C. Clark, during her life, and after her death to her children and representatives of such as may be dead, one-fourteenth part of my estate, after deducting what she has already received of my estate. It is my will that Elmira C. Clark shall have a negro girl by the name of Lethean, to be valued to her by two or three disinterested men as a part of her legacy.

Item 17th. I give and bequeath to my son Robert W. Clark one-fourteenth part of my estate, after deducting what he has already received of my estate.

Item 18th. The property given to my wife Susan, in the third Item of this will, to belong to her during life or widowhood, and if she marries after my death she is in that event to have a child's part only of my whole estate in her own right. It is also my will that at any time while she remains a widow, if she has any surplus property she is at liberty to dispose of the same for the benefit of herself or her children.

Item 19th. I desire and direct that as soon after my death as it can conveniently be done that all the property not given to my wife may be sold or the negroes lotted and drawn for as the legatees may agree.

Item 20th. I hereby constitute and appoint my wife, Susan Clark, Executrix, and my son John P. Clark, Executor of this my last will and testament.

Item 21. It is my will and I direct that if my son John P. Clark, named in the fourteenth item of this will should depart this life before I do, the legacy given to the said John P. Clark, in the fourteenth item, is to go and be paid over to Henry W. Clark, named in the eighth Item of this will, or so much thereof as to satisfy any just debt due from the said John P. Clark to the said Henry W. Clark; but if the said John P. Clark should survive me (the testator) this item of the will to be void and of no effect. 12th April, 1861.

JOHN CLARK [L. S.]

Signed, sealed, delivered and published by John Clark as his last will and testament in the presence of us, the subscribing witnesses, who subscribe our names hereto in the presence of each of us.

STATE OF GEORGIA,
Jasper County.

Wheras I, John Clark, did on the 12th day of April, 1861, sign, seal, declare and publish my last will and testament in presence of Wm. A. Lofton, Eli S. Glover and Charles S. Jordan, who signed said will as witnesses, and whereas I am desirous of altering and changing bequest and devise in said will, I therefore make and publish this codicil. Whereas I gave to my son Harvey T. Clark, in the 15th Item of said will one-fourteenth part of my estate, and whereas the said Harvey T. Clark has since the execution of said will departed this life and left one son his only heir, and whereas his widow has since married and will probably raise a family of children; I therefore give and bequeath to the said heir of the said Harvey T. Clark the legacy bequeathed to the said Harvey T. Clark in the 15th Item of said will to be kept in trust for the said son until he is twenty-one years of age, and if he dies before he arrives to the age of twenty-one years the legacy given to the said Harvey T. Clark in the 15th Item of said will to be equally divided between the brothers and sisters of the said Harvey T. Clark. I therefore constitute and appoint my son John P. Clark Trustee to take care of the legacy named in the 15th Item of said will. Signed, sealed and published by John Clark as the codicil of his last will and testament of the 12th day of April, 1861, in the presence of us, the subscribers who subscribe our names hereunto in the presence of said testator (at his special instance and request) and of each other.

Jasper Court of Ordinary, January Term, 1871.

The will of John Clark and two codicils thereto having been produced in open Court for probate, by Susan Clark, one of the nominated Executors, who has filed her petition to prove the same and two of the witnesses to the said will, to wit: Wm. A. Lofton and Eli S. Glover, and two of the witnesses to the first codicil, to wit, Eli S. Glover and Josiah P. Pope, and two of the witnesses to the second codicil, to wit, Wm. A. Lofton and John R. Dyer, having made oath that the said instruments respectively witnessed by them were signed and published by said John Clark as his last will and testament and as the codicils thereto while of sound, disposing mind and memory, that they witnessed the same for him at his request, and in his presence, and in the presence of each other, and that the same was executed voluntarily by him on the day it purports to have been executed;

It is therefore ordered that the said will and codicils be admitted to Record as satisfactorily proven in common form, and that the said Susan Clark have leave to qualify and upon so doing that letters testamentary do issue the said John P. Clark being a citizen of Alabama, and not appearing to qualify. And it is further ordered that Robert C. Barnes, Wm. P. Hardy, A. J. Walters, O. G. Roberts and Benjamin Hardy be and are hereby appointed appraisers of said estate, and that a warrant of appraisement do issue.

WILLIAM<sup>2</sup> CLARK (1) was born in N. C., Aug. 21, 1782, received a good common school education and when about twenty years old married Judith Craddock, in the State of S. C., to which

State his father and family had previously moved. He was appointed Surveyor General for the State of S. C., and resided at Columbia, the State capital, four years in the discharge of the duties of that office. He then settled in Laurens district, where he was engaged at farming until about 1825, when he moved to Newton Co., Ga., and settled on Yellow River, where he owned a very valuable plantation. Here he remained for many years and for several years represented his county in the General Assembly of the State, the capital then being at Milledgeville. He removed thence to Ala. some time in the '40's and settled in the northern part of Chambers Co., where he owned a valuable farm. In politics he was a Whig and kept well informed on the political issues of his day and was true to his party. In the matter of religious belief he and his wife were Baptist. They reared a large and interesting family of sons and daughters. He was a man of prominence and influence in his community. His life business was farming and he owned a considerable number of negro slaves and was an indulgent and humane master. He died April 13, 1859. His wife, who was born in Laurens district, S. C., Aug. 1, 1787, died Nov. 21, 1856. She was a devoted companion and mother; loved her husband; loved her children; loved her kindred and loved to be loved. She delighted in having their friends visit the family and was a most hospitable hostess. She was a faithful and consistent member of the Church of her choice and she and her husband were buried in the cemetery at Bethel Baptist Church, in the northern part of Chambers Co., in the vicinity in which they had spent the latter years of an honorable and useful life, and of which they were consistent members. NANCY<sup>2</sup> CLARK (1) was born about 1784 in the State of N. C., received a common school education and married Henry Burdett, a smith by trade, of Laurens district, S. C. They moved to Jasper Co., Ga., about 1820 and settled at a place called Mechanicsville, where they resided and where Mr. Burdett conducted a successful smithy and provided well for his growing family. The religion of the family was Baptist and in politics Democratic. The children were educated in the neighboring schools and by precept and example were trained to habits of industry and economy; reared to useful and honorable lines. It was a happy family. They loved one another; loved their neighbors; loved their kindred and loved to be loved.

In the fall of 1847 Mr. Burdett with his family moved to Washington Co., Tex., where his wife died in 1864 and he some years prior to that date. Most of their descendants are in Tex. Children:

10.

DR. COURTNEY JAMES<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born Oct. 27, 1816, in Laurens district, S. C. He received an ordinary academic education, read medicine and began the practice of his profession at the early age of twenty, at Jacksonville, Calhoun Co. (then Benton Co.) Ala., where he soon took a creditable position in his chosen profession. His first medical studies were under

Dr. John Robert Clark, his cousin, who had a large general store at Double Cabins, Henry Co., Ga., in which the subject of this sketch was a clerk, as well as a student. His first course of medical lectures was taken at Augusta, Ga.; his second at Louisville, Ky., and his third and last at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, acquitting himself with credit, and graduating with honors at each of the two last named.

In the war with Mexico he was First Assistant Surgeon of the Alabama Volunteers; when the regiment was mustered out, the time of enlistment having expired he was asked by the commanding officer of the Palmetto Regiment to serve as surgeon of that regiment to fill a vacancy. He accepted the position temporarily and upon the request of the Governor of South Carolina served through with this regiment. He was on the staff of General Scott at the capture of the City of Mexico and riding with him selected for the wounded a palace of the Montezumas as a hospital. After a ratification of the treaty of peace he returned to Jacksonville, Ala., to resume the practice of his profession. He received a splendid gold medal voted him by the State of South Carolina for his service with the Palmetto Regiment.

He devoted himself actively to his profession greatly aided by his hospital experience and his reputation as a surgeon called his services into demand over several counties.

He had a literary turn of mind, was fond of the classics and pursued the study of Spanish, a taste for which he had acquired by force of circumstances in Mexico. He was one of a coterie of men who made a small part of the Jacksonville Republican's reputation in the state for literary style, force and brilliancy; notably was this the case in the political contest for the liquidation of the State Bank. Dr. Clark ably espoused with his pen, the election of Governor Martin on this issue in 1845.

Feb. 16, 1853, Dr. Clark married Nancy Walker Davis.

In 1861 he entered the service of his state as a volunteer in the Confederate States Army and was appointed Chief Surgeon of the Tenth Alabama Regiment, Colonel John H. Forney commanding. His first service actively was upon the bloody field of the First Manassas. His abilities were quickly recognized and he was placed in charge of the Alabama Hospitals in Richmond, where he remained until they were closed and then he was ordered to Montgomery where he continued to minister to the sick and wounded Confederates until Wilson's advance Apr. 10-12, 1865, forced him to leave or surrender. With a corps of assistants and a few nurses he followed the remnant of a tattered army to Columbus, Ga., where he was compelled by his duties to the wounded to surrender. He however never left the operating room as the Federals invited him to assist in the care of some of their wounded which he did in the same quarters. As a mark of appreciation he was presented by the commanding officer of the Federals with a fine set of surgical instruments long afterwards prized and used by him. The fine pair of surgeon shears he presented to his wife on his return to his home in Jacksonville.

In 1866 Dr. Clark removed to Selma where he took a prominent position in his profession as well as in matters pertaining to the organizing, fostering and improving the public school system. He was largely instrumental in separating the school from the uncertain mill of municipal politics as to the money for its maintenance. While a member of the City Council and thus during the period of Reconstruction when the negroes and "carpet-baggers" and "scalawags" were in power he succeeded in securing an amendment to the city charter which sets apart a large share of the city's revenue for the public schools, placing the funds in the control of a self-perpetuating board of the most reputable citizens of Selma. The Board of Trustees of Dallas Academy named the fine colored school building the "Clark School" in his honor.

It was as a surgeon that Dr. Clark made most reputation, not only in Alabama but in the circle of skilled members of the profession in many portions of the United States. He performed many pieces of surgery not theretofore attempted, notably in tracheotomy, ankle and thigh work. He was the inventor of two surgical instruments, one a placenta hook much used now.

Dr. Clark was a member of the Presbyterian Church, a kind hearted physician an indulgent father and a loyal friend; of outward stern and reserved manner, acquired in two army experiences, he was full of tenderness and affection for those endeared to him.

In politics he was a partisan Democrat of unwavering devotion to his people through every vicissitude. He only consented to the use of his personal popularity by the Democrats to elect him to the City Council of Selma at a time when political adventurers and negroes were plundering the city and piling up bonded indebtedness; other than this he declined because of his large professional business.

After a life filled with usefulness and good deeds he, as he expressed it was expecting to go to sleep as one who had diligently labored all the day, rested from his labors; he died Aug. 16, 1893, at Jacksonville, Ala., and was buried beside his wife in the Live Oak Cemetery, Selma, Ala. A monument marks the graves.

Nancy Walker Davis Clark was the daughter of Thomas and Laurania Davis who at one time resided in Butts Co., Ga. Nancy Walker Davis was born at Montevallo, Shelby Co., Ala., Oct. 23, 1833. Her parents removed to Natchitoches Parish, La. Nancy was nominally adopted by her maternal uncle, Judge Thomas A. Walker, of Jacksonville, Ala. She received her education in the schools of her adopted town. She was a great favorite with her uncle and at his death her children inherited the major portion of Judge Walker's handsome estate. She was a devout member of the Presbyterian Church. Her domestic traits were exceptional as housewife, mother and nurse, often aiding her husband in nursing his patients. Mrs. Clark was one of the organizers of the Confederate Memorial Association in Selma, Ala.; was for some years president of the same and was one of the few active members who pursued unfaltering the work of erecting the monument to the Confederate dead in Live Oak Cemetery. Her sunny cheerful disposition kept her raven locks in their pristine beauty to the last years of her life, untouched by Time's finger tips. She passed to her well-earned reward Mar. 19, 1892.

Born to Dr. C. J. Clark and Mrs. Nancy Walker (Davis) Clark eight sons and daughters:

THOMAS FRANKLIN<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born Feb. 21, 1818, in Laurens district, S. C. He received a common school education, assisted at farm work and attended the neighboring schools from time to time as opportunity afforded; in 1836 he was a volunteer soldier and served three months in the war with the Creek Indians; following this he was one year on the road with a fine mule team, hauling from place to place. He then spent about four years in Ala., and Miss., "Sowing wild Oats." Returning to Ga., he spent one year on his father's farm and then went back to Miss., spent some years in that state and in Ala., and in 1846 went to Washington Co., Tex., and in May of that year Volunteered and served three months with a company of Texas Ranges in the war with Mexico. In the fall of 1846 he returned to the State of Ga., and on Sept. 12, 1849 was happily married to E. C. McNair; settled in Henry Co., and engaged in farming. In 1855 he was engaged in tanning with his brother-in-law, B. J. Flowers at Snapping Shoals, Ga. In 1857 he bought a tannery at Keys ferry and also the ferry and remained there until 1867 when he sold out and again engaged in farming for some years near Jackson, Butts Co., Ga. Being advanced in years he finally retired from active business pursuits; was a good and respected citizen, esteemed as such by his neighbors. His wife died July 8, 1855 and on June 1, 1856 he married Nancy Clark, of Butts Co., Ga., who died without issue Dec. 18, 1895. He died July 4, 1893.

Children by first marriage:

61. i. HOMER COURTNEY<sup>4</sup>, b. Sept. 12, 1850; m. Sallie Clark.
62. ii. JULIA HARRIET, b. Jan. 10, 1855; twice m.

12.

AVALINE FRANCES<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born Sept. 30, 1819, in Laurens district, S. C. She embraced religion at about fourteen years of age and joined the Baptist Church. She died of typhoid fever in the triumphs of a Christian faith in Oct., 1846, and was buried in the family grave yard at the family homestead in Jasper Co., Ga.

13.

MATILDA CAROLINE<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born Mar. 20, 1821 in Laurens district, S. C., and was burned to death Mar. 31, 1825, her clothes having caught fire. She was buried in the family grave yard at the family home in Laurens district, S. C.

14.

NANCY AMELIA<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born in Laurens district, S. C., Sept. 30, 1822. She received her education in the common schools and was married to Dr. Thomas W. Sims at the residence of her parents in Jasper Co., Ga., Feb. 16, 1840.

Dr. T. W. Sims was born in the State of South Carolina, Dec. 18, 1818, where he was reared and educated, and at an early age married Nancy, daughter of Alfred Dean and Jane (Bobo) Dean, who bore him one child, a daughter called Madora (see appendix 223) and died. Dr. Sims subsequently moved to the State of Ga., and settled in Jasper Co. where he met and married Nancy A. Clark as above stated. They settled in Newton Co., Ga., in 1845 and resided for many years at and near Snapping Shoals, where he was engaged in the practice of medicine. Dr. Sims was a good and popular physician and an influential citizen. In politics he was a Democrat, always giving a hearty support to the nominees of his party. In the matter of religious faith he and his wife were Baptists. Nancy Sims was a model wife and mother, a good housekeeper, industrious and frugal, a congenial companion, a very helpmeet to her husband. She died July 2, 1889. Children:

- 63. i. AMARINTHA MARTHA<sup>4</sup>, b. Mar. 22, 1844; m. J. R. High-tower.

15.

ELOISA ANN<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born in Laurens district, S. C., Dec. 11, 1823, and received her education in the common schools. She was united in marriage to John Gazaway McNair of Henry Co., Ga., Jan. 22, 1845, at the residence of her parents in Jasper Co., Ga.

John G. McNair was born in Columbia Co., Ga., Nov. 27, 1818, and was educated in the common schools. They resided in Henry and Newton Counties, Ga., for many years. Mr. McNair was a farmer by occupation, made a comfortable competency, provided well for his family and lived a quiet and unassuming life. He was a good and law-abiding citizen and esteemed by his neighbors as an upright and good man. In the matter of religious faith Mr. McNair was a Presbyterian and his wife though of a Baptist family went with him to the church of his choice. He served as a volunteer in the Confederate States Army, war of 1861-5. He died at Conyers, Rockdale Co., Ga., Oct. 27, 1892. The widow, Mrs. Eloisa A. McNair, is, this 1903, living and for many years has made her home with her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Penn, of Monticello, Ga. She is now in her eightieth year and remarkably healthy and vigorous for a person of her age. She reads and sews without glasses and executes most beautiful handiwork. Ever industrious and frugal, modest and unassuming, never happier than when at work. She is pleasantly spending the remaining years of a long and useful life with her children.

Their children were:

HENRY WILLIAM<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born in Laurens district, S. C., May 22, 1825.* The family moved to the State of *The compiler, in presenting the sketch of himself, has done so with a degree of fulness and detail which do not appear in many other sketches. In doing this he feels that he is not subject to the charge of vanity or self laudation. It is chiefly a history of a strenuous business life. Such details are altogether admissible in a work of this character, and were they omitted his family and descendants would doubtless search in vain for them in time to come.

Ga., when he was but a child, in 1829. There he grew up on the farm, assisting at farm labor and receiving an ordinary common school education. He was trained to habits of industry and frugality, and this training was of much value to him in after life. He professed religion, when about fifteen years old and joined Bethlehem Baptist Church, a Missionary Baptist organization in the vicinity of the parental homestead. In after years and while residing in Montgomery Co., Ala., he was for many years clerk of the church of his membership, and was liberal with his means in support of the church and village school.

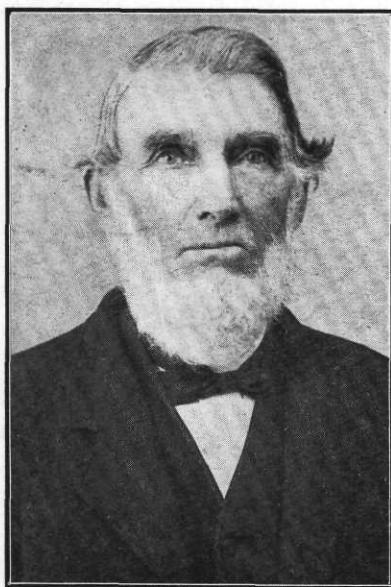

In the fall of 1847 H. W. Clark settled in Chambers Co., Ala., and began a mercantile business in co-partnership with his brother-in-law Benjamin J. Flowers, under the style and firm name of Flowers & Clark. This co-partnership was dissolved in the winter of 1851-2.

In the spring of 1853 he, with his little family, wife and two children, moved to and settled at Pinelevel, Montgomery Co., Ala., where he again engaged in merchandising and in the course of a few years built up a fine business, and was in the midst of a prosperous trade when the Civil War began in 1861. He had established a good credit in New York, could buy all the goods he could handle and had promise of a very successful career as a merchant. The war dissipated all that.

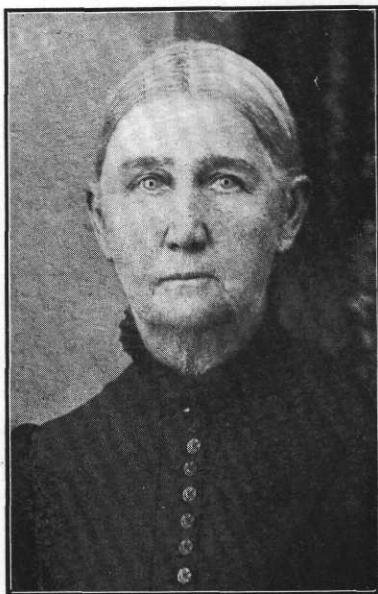

Because of physical disabilities he was not in the Confederate Army, though he had no less than seventeen brothers and brothers-in-law in that memorable conflict.

In 1862 he closed out his mercantile business and was actively engaged at milling, tanning, &c., until the close of the war. During the war he invested some money in lands and not a little in cotton, and these investments proved to be very profitable, especially the latter, and when the war closed he was able to make satisfactory settlement of a large indebtedness in New York and elsewhere and have an ample competency left with which to begin life anew in the new-born, though prostrate South; new in the new order of things, prostrate financially, and politically under the heel of the carpet-bagger, the scalawag and the negro.

In the month of May, 1870, Mr. Clark moved to the City of Montgomery, and in the fall of that year took possession of a purchase he had made, property bounded by Houston, Hilliard, Pelham and Garrison streets, for which he paid ten thousand dollars. Here he resided for twenty-nine years and reared his large family of seven sons and one daughter.

For some years after settling in Montgomery he was engaged in the business of life insurance, being the general agent and manager of the Southern Life Insurance Company for Ala. In 1876 he engaged in the manufacture and sale of yellow pine lumber, and was thus employed about twelve years. In 1881 he was attacked with bronchitis from which he has never recovered and much of his time and means have been devoted to the care of his health. For ten or more years he has entirely retired from active business pursuits.

In politics he has been a life long Democrat, but never an aspirant for political office. Never being active in political work; never a slave to party lash. Never voted else than a Democratic ticket, but had the courage of his convictions and refused to vote for W. J. Bryan as the nominee of the party for President of U. S. in 1896, because he did not approve of the financial policy of the candidate.

As Royal Arch Mason.—Received the degrees in Pinelevel Royal Arch Chapter, No. 75, Sept. 1, 1864. Served as Secretary 1864 to 1866; was elected and served as High Priest 1866 and 1867, was elected and served as King in 1869. Received the Order of High Priesthood in 1869.

As Knight Templar.—Montgomery Commandery, No. 4, Montgomery, Ala. Was received constituted and created a Knight of the Illustrious order of Knight of the Red Cross, Dec. 11, 1868.

Was introduced, created and dubbed a Knight Templar and Knight of Malta or order of Holy St. John of Jerusalem, Dec. 12, 1868, Sir Peleg Brown, R. E. Grand Commander, presiding.

H. W. Clark having been a member of Montgomery Com-mandery, No. 4, KNIGHTS TEMPLAR, in good order and regular standing, for thirty years, becomes a life member exempt from all dues and assessments.

H. W. Clark's wife, Mary Susan, daughter of David Wright, a well-to-do farmer, was born in Newton Co., Ga., Dec. 6, 1828. They were married at the residence of her parents in Chambers Co., Ala., Sept. 19, 1848, her uncle Elder Benajah Goss officiating. She received her education in the common schools and was trained to habits of industry and economy by her mother, who was a good farmer's wife. She was a young woman of attractive personality with a happy faculty for entertaining her friends. She made a frugal and industrious house-keeper, and although only twenty years old when married, she had made more than ordinary preparation for house-keeping. She was of a sympathetic nature, pitied the poor and afflicted and was ever ready to render them aid and comfort. She was always solicitous for the welfare and happiness of her children; was a consistent member of the Baptist Church, which she joined in early life, and had an abiding faith in the promises of the gospel, seeming never to doubt her final salvation. She blessed the life of her husband as only a true and loving wife could do. She died at the family residence, Houston street, Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 12, 1893, and her remains were interred in the family lot in the city cemetery.

The children of H. W. and Mary S. Clark were ten sons and one daughter:

MARY LUCY<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4), twin sister of Martha Susan, was born in Laurens district, S. C., Mar. 1, 1827, and came with her parents to the State of Ga., when not quite three years of age. She received her education in the common schools and was married at the early age of sixteen, a thing not uncommon in those days, to John Collins Pope, Apr. 6, 1843, and to them were born and raised seven children. Mrs. Pope has been always a tireless and energetic worker and made a splendid helpmate to her husband. During the times of the civil war and those following, when people were thrown as never before or since on their own resources, in order to procure something to eat and wear, she set her inventive mind to work as well as her busy hands and helped to feed and clothe her family by spinning, weaving and making cotton and woolen garments; ladies' and gents' hats out of native grasses, wheat straw and poplar bark. She had on so many occasions made something useful or beautiful out of apparently nothing but a pile of rubbish, that one of her sons-in-law remarked one day, that he believed she could rummage around in the storage garret of her house and make anything from a knitting needle to a steam engine.

She is not content unless at work and happiest when working or administering to others. Though seventy-seven years of age, she devotes a large part of her time to fancy lace work and embroidery, and many of her friends and kin are richer in these dainty valuables, owing to her generosity. Forgetfulness of self, love towards all and enmity to none; devotion in time of trouble as well as in time of happiness, are mere attribute of her beautiful Christian character. She is a consistent member of the Baptist Church.

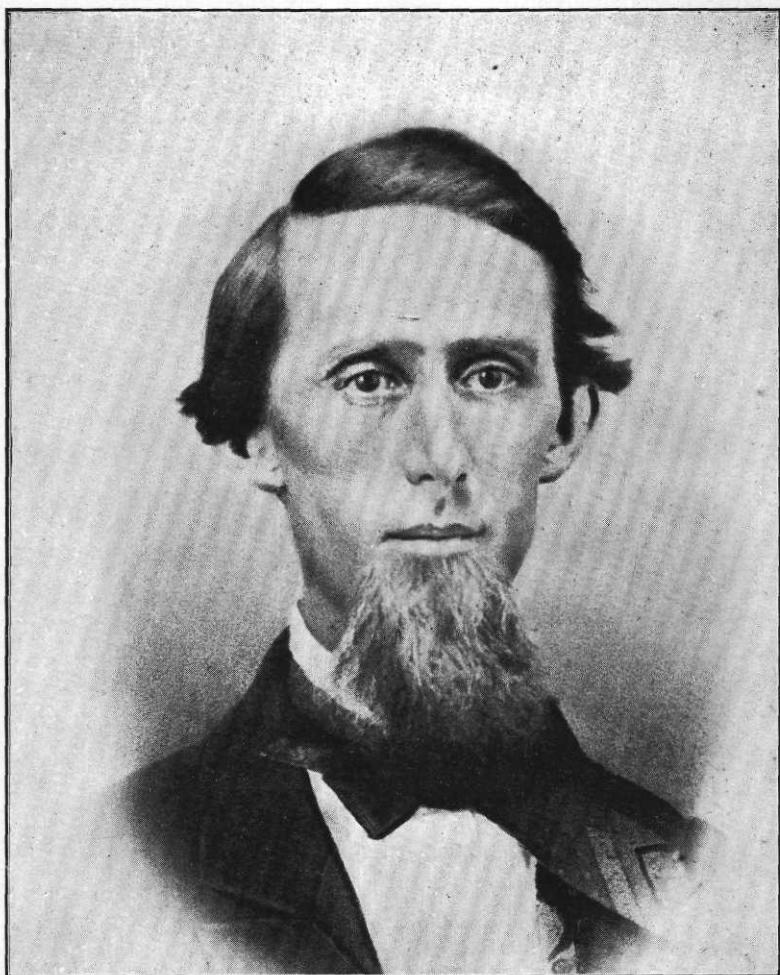

John Collins Pope was born in Oglethorpe Co., Ga., Feb. 12, 1815, of Josiah and Fanny Pope.

He died from the effects of a stroke of paralysis at his home near Monticello, Ga., Oct. 19, 1893. Moving with his parents to Jasper Co. when about twelve years of age, being next to the oldest boy in an already large and poor family, he was unable to go to school at all, but worked daily in the field in their behalf. Though uneducated he was a man of keen intelligence and sparkling wit. By time he was grown, his father, aided by his large family of boys, had grown prosperous and added many acres of land to the small tract that he purchased when first moving to his new home. After his marriage his loving wife, with more than ordinary industry and economy, helped him to accumulate and add to the small tract that his father gave him until it was not many years before they had a nice farm of several hundred acres of land and a number of servants. He was an almost tireless worker, and in the days of his greatest prosperity, worked as hard if not harder than any slave he had. He was never happier than when hard at work and kept it up to the time when he was stricken with the disease that resulted in his death. He raised a large family of three girls and four boys and gave to each one the benefits of an education, of which he had been deprived and which he keenly felt.

Mr. Pope was a man of fine feelings and of rugged honesty. In all his long and useful life he was never known to compromise with truth and honor in any transaction. He responded to his country's call for men to defend her and went to Macon and enlisted in the Confederate service, and was sent back to Jasper Co. as a "home guard," where he did good service in looking after the families of younger soldiers who had been sent to the front; among the latter, one of his own sons only 16 years of age. Though financially wrecked by the terrible outcome of the war, he never lost heart but met the situation as only a brave man could and started immediately with might and main to retrieve his broken and shattered fortune. He was fully aided and abetted by his brave and energetic wife and it was not many years before they were living in at least comfortable circumstances, paying off in full, dollar for dollar, all that the war had left them indebted for.

Mr. Pope was noted for his hospitality. Besides the numerous family connection that found such a delightful and hospitable reception at all times, as well as a large number of friends who delighted to visit at his home, he never turned away any one no matter how tough or disreputable looking they appeared, but furnished them both meals and lodging. His motto was that he had rather feed and administer to the comfort of a score of unworthy mendicants than turn away one hungry and deserving person.

In all that went to make up a neighbor, a friend, a husband, a father, a citizen, in fact a man, he was truly "a diamond in the rough." Their children are:

MARTHA SUSAN<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born in Laurens district, S. C., Mar 1, 1827, received her education in the common schools and was united in marriage to Benjamin J. Flowers at the residence of her parents in Jasper Co., Ga., Jan. 22, 1845. She is the twin sister of Mary Lucy Clark who married John C. Pope.

Benjamin J. Flowers was born Mar. 5, 1821, and died at Eagle Lake, Florida, Nov. 6, 1895.

For two years after marriage, Mr. Flowers was engaged in farming in Henry Co., Ga. In the latter part of 1847 he moved with his family to Chambers Co., Ala., where he was engaged in Merchandising in co-partnership with the writer until the winter of 1851-2, under the firm name of Flowers & Clark, when this partnership was dissolved by mutual consent. He with his family returned to the State of Ga., and settled in Newton Co., and again engaged in farming, &c. He was a volunteer soldier in the Confederate States Army during the Civil War. Mr. Flowers was an intelligent man and a good and respected citizen. He was a man of strong convictions, always defending his conclusions when formed on any subject. In the matter of politics he was a Democrat. In religious faith a Methodist, but was tolerant and respectful to persons of all creeds. His wife though of a Baptist family went with him to the church of his choice. She was and is a good Christian woman; was a congenial companion, a model mother and house-keeper, a true helpmeet to her husband, and still survives him this 1903. She resides at Eagle Lake, Fla. HARRIET ELIZABETH<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born in Laurens district, S. C., Oct. 8, 1828, was educated in the common schools and was united in marriage to Hopson Pope at the residence of her parents in Jasper Co., Ga., Aug. 14, 1849.

Hopson Pope was a brother of John C. Pope, who married Mary Lucy Clark. He had been previously married. His first wife was Louisa Crawford who bore him two children, a son and a daughter, Crawford and Missouri. The son, Crawford Pope, was killed in the Confederate Army during the Civil War. Hopson Pope was also in the Confederate Army. At the time of his marriage to Harriet E. Clark, his home was in Talladega Co., Ala., where he had formerly settled. He remained there until his death. Mr. Pope's life business was farming. He owned a good farm and home on the Coosa river near Fayetteville, where he reared a large and interesting family of sons and daughters. He and his wife were communicants of the Baptist Church. He was a kind and indulgent father, an affectionate husband and provided well for the support and comfort of his family; was a good and law-abiding citizen and highly esteemed by his neighbors as such. His wife was an amiable and congenial companion, a devoted mother, a good house-keeper and helpmeet. She, this 1903, still survives her husband and resides at Oxford, Ala. She is greatly beloved by her children. These are:

20.

JOHN PARKS<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born in Newton Co., Ga., Jan. 15, 1830. He received his early education in the common schools of the neighborhood in which he was reared, and attended college at Oxford, Ga., one or more terms. He read law, intending to engage in the practice of that profession but abandoned that intention and was not admitted to the bar.

John P. Clark entered the service of the Confederate States as a volunteer private of the Tenth Regiment Alabama Volunteers, at Montgomery, Ala., in 1861, and served with that regiment for some years. He was a brave and gallant soldier, never shirking duty nor shrinking from danger. He was wounded in battle several times and near the close of the war was transferred to the Cavalry service. He was united in marriage Oct. 26, 1869, at Union Springs, Ala., to Mrs. Mary Ellen Norman Marks, a widow of culture and refinement without children. She was born of a prominent family in Columbus, Ga., July 15, 1836. They resided for a time at Union Springs, then at Eufaula, Ala., and a few years later moved to Atlanta, Ga., where the family has since resided. For many years they have resided at No. 90 Merritts Ave., where they have a comfortable home and an interesting family. Mr. Clark's business was Professor of Music, piano tuning and repairing being his chief business and in which he made an enviable reputation and enjoyed a liberal patronage. He died at Covington, Ga., Dec. 25, 1902, surrounded by his family and friends after a brief illness of about one week, during which time all that medical skill and loving friends could do to relieve him was without avail. He was buried at the cemetery in Atlanta, his home for many years. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church. Children:

i. JOHNNIE PARKS<sup>4</sup>, a daughter, b. at Union Springs, Ala., Jan. 31, 1871; a cultured, refined and practical business young woman.
 ii. RICHARD NORMAN, b. at Eufaula, Ala., Apr. 22, 1873; a practical business man in insurance.
 97. iii. ANNIE LEIGH, b. in Atlanta, Ga., July 31, 1877; m. Howard M. Askew.

21.

EMILY JUDITH<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born in Jasper Co., Ga., May 24, 1831, was educated in the common schools and was united in marriage at the residence of her parents, to Robert J. Brooks, Oct. 19, 1852. They resided for some time at Snapping Shoals, Ga., moved thence to Morrisville, Calhoun Co., Ala., where he was employed in a manufacturing establishment. He returned with his family to Snapping Shoals, Newton Co., Ga., thence went to Griffin, Ga. Brooks was a skilled mechanic and in the winter of 1859-60, moved with his family to Pinelevel, Montgomery Co., Ala, where he began the manufacture of sash, doors, blinds, furniture, gins, &c., and was thus engaged when the war between the States began in 1861. It was soon apparent that this business would not prosper pending hostilities and he wound up his business in Ala. in 1862, and returned with his family to Jasper Co., Ga. Soon after moving to Ga., he entered as a volunteer private in the Confederate States Army and died in camp near Richmond, Va., July 12, 1862.

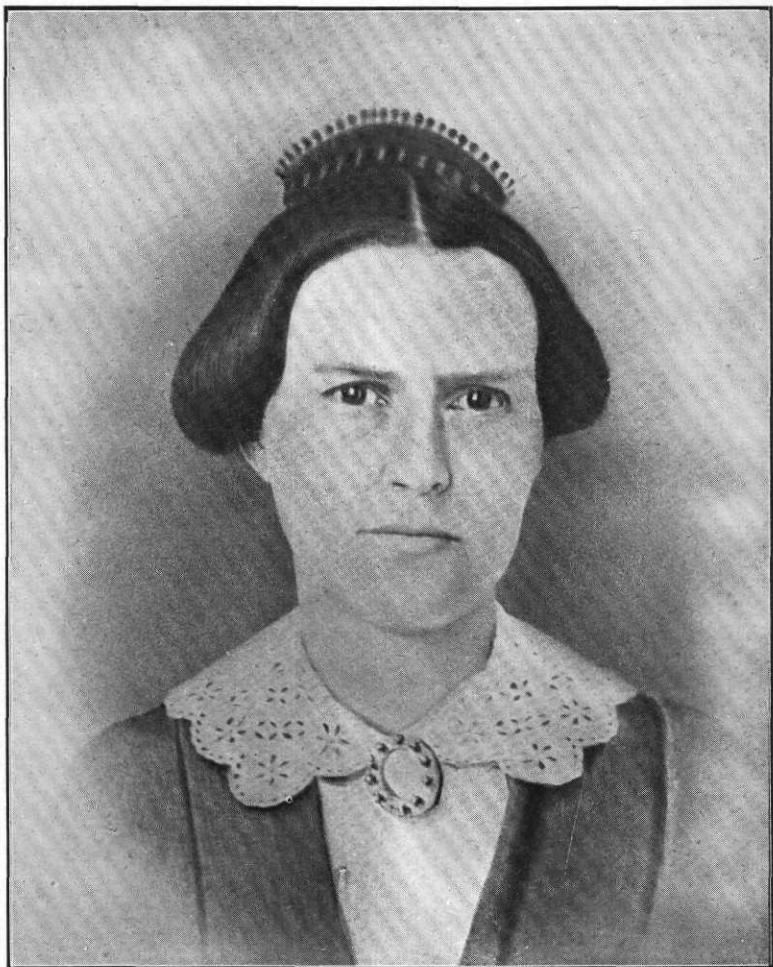

In Feb., 1868, Mrs. Emily J. Brooks was united in marriage to William Henry Ivy, of Jasper Co., Ga., where they resided about three years and then moved to Newton Co., Ga., near Covington. Later they resided in Covington and Mr. Ivy was engaged in the drug business in co-partnership with his step-son, Courtney C. Brooks. Mr. Ivy died in Covington, Ga., May 21, 1894, aged 69 years and 7 months and the local paper said of him:

"A better purer man never lived or died in this or any other community. He was born and raised in Newton county and was an industrious and useful citizen, being of a quiet and retiring nature. He was a patriotic man, having been a soldier in the Mexican War of 1847, and also a soldier in the late war between the States. He was an earnest and consistent member of the Methodist Church, who loved the Lord and endeavored to keep His commandments. He was a true and loyal Mason, who held out a helping hand to every brother in distress. * * * He leaves a rich and priceless legacy to his family in the undying form of a pure life and a clean record."

Mrs. Ivy died May 13, 1899; mourned by loving children and friends.

She was a model wife and mother, and a devout Christian and communicant of the Methodist Church.

Children by her first husband:

Mrs. Henry W. Clark, when 32 years old (No. 16).

JULIA PATTERSON<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born June 18, 1833, in Jasper Co., Ga., and grew up to be a beautiful young woman. During a visit to her brother, Dr. C. J. Clark, at Jacksonville, Ala., she met Dr. Miller William Francis and on May 16, 1854, they were happily united in marriage. To them were born four children. All was pure and happiness in the home until the dread news that war had been declared between the States. The husband felt it his duty to give his services and life if need be in defense of his home and native land. With equal patriotism the wife agreed and then for long years of suspense with but rare intervals was the young mother separated from her loved husband. During this time the only daughter came to bless the home, but for a brief period. Her father saw her one time then while listening to hear at any time of the husband being wounded or dead, the mother's heart was rent with grief as she saw her precious one sicken and die, the father far away on the battle fields of Va. Through it all she trusted in God, and her letters of that period bear testimony to her sweet character and love for country. The world knows and recognizes the valor and fidelity of the Southern soldier and monuments are raised to them. God only knows the true devotion and silent suffering of those the purest, finest, noblest women of the world has ever seen, the wives of the South of 1861-5. The soldiers had relief in active service, their wives had patient suffering and waiting at home. The red rose of valor is theirs, the white lilly of purity and love belongs to the Southern women and their memory like a sweet perfume lingers with us who knew them and loved them. Through these chastenings the life of Mrs. Francis grew sadder and sweeter. During the next ten years another son came to bless the home, then the quiet spirit of the mother was called home. She died on the 6 of Nov. 1874 and was buried at Jacksonville, Ala. She had for many years been a sweet spirited conscientious member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and died in the perfect assurance of a part in the resurrection of the just. "Her children rise up and call her blessed."

Dr. Miller W. Francis was born Dec. 21, 1833, at Jasper, Marion Co., Tenn. His ancestors went to Ireland during the religious persecution in France, being strong Huguenots. Joseph Francis came from Ireland and settled in Va., and was a soldier in the war of the Revolution. His three children were educated in France. Joseph's son Miller, married Hannah Henry, a member of the Patrick Henry family; they had twelve children. One daughter, Theresa, married Judge Hopkins Turney, United States Senator from Tennessee before the Civil War. A son, Dr. James C. Francis, married Amy Ingram and in 1834 moved to Jacksonville, Calhoun Co., (then Benton) and died there in 1878. Miller William Francis was a son of Dr. James C. Francis. He was educated in Ala., graduating with honors when seventeen years old. He read medicine in the office of his father and Dr. C. J. Clark, graduated in medicine and surgery at the Medical College in Louisville, Ky. in 1853, and commenced the practice of his profession at twenty years of age. He continued in his chosen profession at Jacksonville until the Southern States seceded and leaving his young wife and two little children, he enlisted in the Confederate Army, and remained true to his colors as long as they floated, and true to his South land as long as he lived. He was commissioned senior surgeon of the 6th Ala., Infantry, Rodes Brigade, May 19, 1861, resigned this position in May, 1862, and was re-commissioned June 18, 1862, senior surgeon, Morgan's Brigade, Wheeler Corps Cavalry. He continued in this position till May 4, 1865, when he was paroled at Charlotte or Greensboro, N. C. He was with Gen. Joe Wheeler on many of his raids through Tenn. and Ky., was at the siege of Atlanta, always at the front ready to do his duty. Of him Gen., now U. S. Senator Morgan said to one of his sons, "Your father was the only surgeon I ever saw dress a wounded man on the firing line. He would not stay in the rear."

When the war ended Dr. Francis returned to Jacksonville and resumed the practice of medicine and built up a very extensive and successful practice. In 1874 his health began to fail. His beloved wife had died and life seemed to have but little attraction for him, and on Dec. 8, 1877, he gladly yielded it up. Brave, chivalrous, tender-hearted gentleman that he was, he drew men to him. There was universal sorrow when the word went out that he was dead. He was a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Children:

- 102. i. JAMES CLARK<sup>4</sup>, b. Apr. 1, 1855; m. Virginia A. Morris.
- 103. ii. THOMAS WOODSON, b. May 11, 1857; m. Ella M. Morris.
- 104. iii. MARY MILLER, b. Nov. 7, 1861; d. June 2, 1863.
- 104. iv. JOHN MILLER, b. Oct. 25, 1867; m. Evie E. Harris.

23.

HARVEY TUCKER<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born in Jasper Co., Ga., May 2, 1838. He was educated in the common schools of the community in which his parents resided and finally at Jacksonville, Calhoun Co., Ala., where he was stopping with his brother, Dr. C. J. Clark.

He was employed at one time as a clerk in the dry goods store of Mr. Porter at Tuskegee, Ala., and afterwards at Pinelevel, Montgomery Co., Ala., in the store of the writer.

On the first of Jan., 1859, he became a partner in the latter's store, when the firm was H. W. & H. T. Clark until July 5, 1861, when in an unfortunate encounter he was killed by one Alexander Urquahart. Urquahart was held to bail in the sum of ten thousand dollars. A bill of indictment was returned against Urquahart by the grand jury of Montgomery Co., charging him with murder, but he had enlisted in the Confederate States Army, and was thus enabled to postpone a trial for many years, in fact until after the close of the war and when tried was acquitted.

Harvey T. Clark was a capable young business man, and gave promise of making a successful merchant. He was affable and courteous and had a happy faculty for making friends. He was married to Elvie S. Locke, of Montgomery Co., in 1860.

Mrs. Elvie (Locke) Clarke married W. J. Lewis, of Montgomery Co., Ala. They settled in Bullock Co., where Mr. Lewis was successfully engaged in farming. They had two children, one died, the other is the wife of L. L. Lasiter, a prominent business man of Montgomery, Ala.

Mr. Lewis died many years ago. Mrs. Lewis died at Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 7, 1901. Born to Harvey and Elvie S. Clark one child:

105. HARVEY JAMES<sup>4</sup>, b. Mar. 24, 1861; m. Minnie Thomas McDowell.

24.

ELMIRA CAROLINE<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born in Jasper Co., Ga., Mar. 8, 1841. She was well educated in the local schools and grew up to be a young woman of more than ordinary attractive personality. A relative of hers who met her when on a visit to friends in S. C., in some correspondence with the writer, says: "I thought Cousin Elmira was the most beautiful young woman my childish eyes had ever beheld, and she was as charming as she was beautiful." At some time during the Civil War while on a visit to friends at Jacksonville, Ala., she met Captain Gentry, of the Confederate Army, who afterwards visited her at the home of her parents in Jasper Co., Ga., and on July 3, 1865, they were happily united in marriage. The Rev. W. Pennington officiating.

Captain Frank Gentry was born in Marion Co., Ky., Aug. 17, 1824. He enlisted in the Confederate Army in 1861, was orderly sergeant in Company "B," 9th Kentucky Battalion, and was promoted to the rank of Captain before the close of the war. He settled at Carson's Landing on the Mississippi river where he was engaged at farming for many years and later on moved to Oxford, Mississippi, where he died Apr. 3, 1900, leaving his family well provided for. The local paper, the Globe, said on the occasion of his death:

"Capt. Frank Gentry, one of the oldest and best known citizens of Oxford, died Tuesday morning at seven o'clock. * * Capt. Gentry moved here from the Mississippi Bottoms several years ago. He was an old Confederate soldier, having performed many daring feats during the dark days of long ago. * * "

ROBERT WALTER<sup>3</sup> CLARK (4) was born Feb. 1, 1845, in Jasper Co., Ga., and when about sixteen years old joined Co. "B," 53rd Ga. Regiment Volunteers, for the Confederate States Army. In Mar., 1862, went to Va., and was engaged in the seven days' fight in front of Richmond. He was with the command until Oct. 19, 1864; was engaged in fourteen regular battles besides numerous skirmishes. A piece of shell struck his gun at the battle of Gettysburg and knocked him down. He was in the battle of Spottsylvania C. H., where trees were cut down with minie balls. That fight lasted ten days, sometimes continuing all night. He was at the battle of Horseshoe Bend; was shot in the right hip at the battle of Petersburg when the mine was blown up; was shot through the right arm, just above the elbow, by a minie ball on Oct. 19, 1864, at the battle of Cedar Creek; was in the hospital at Charlottesville, Va., three months before being able to travel. He was afterwards sent to Washington, Ga., on detached duty.

THE CLARK FAMILY REUNION.

At a reunion of the surviving sons and daughters of John and Susan Clark, at Covington, Ga., Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 29, 1900, there were present all the survivors, four sons and five daughters; being just one-half the original number, and also just half of each the sons and daughters. It was an occasion for which there was much to be thankful, and a most pleasant and joyous week was spent in which reminiscences of early life were freely indulged in.

ADALINE CRADDOCK<sup>3</sup> CLARK (5), was born Dec. 22, 1815, in Laurens district, S. C., and when ten years old the family moved to Newton Co., Ga. Here she grew up to mature womanhood, while her education was being completed in the neighboring schools. She was a young woman of rare beauty and attractive personality. She married William H. Higgins in Newton Co., Ga., July 29, 1841.

Mr. Higgins was born Aug. 4, 1817. They resided in Butts Co., Ga., a few years and then moved to and settled in Chambers Co., Ala., twelve miles north of Lafayette. Mr. Higgins was an excellent mechanic and conducted a smithy, providing well for the support and comfort of his family. In religious faith the family were Baptist. He was esteemed by his neighbors as a just and upright man. He was an affectionate husband and a kind and indulgent father and his wife, Adaline, was a most estimable woman, a congenial companion and devoted mother. They were the esteemed friends and neighbors of the writer and his wife (1849-53). Charley Elmore Higgins, their youngest child, writes:

ROANOKE, ALA., March 27, 1901.

"My father died Sept. 5, 1868, of cancer. He suffered a great deal. Our sweet mother was spared us till the 5th of last month, when she died at the age of 85 years. We buried her at the cemetery at old Bethel Church, to rest with grandfather and grandmother and father and my brother Tom, and sister Louvenia, until that great day when the graves shall give up the dead, when I know my mother will be gathered with the redeemed of earth to dwell in Heaven forever."

Children:

Mr. Mitchell was born July 1, 1802, in Amelia Co., Va. His parents moved from Va. to Abbeville, S. C., while he was yet young. They died and he was apprenticed to a gin manufacturer, a man named Abel, who taught him the gin trade. Soon after his marriage to Miss Burdett, in 1825, he moved to Jasper Co., Ga., and there engaged in manufacturing gins. In 1839 he moved to Henry Co., Ga., and erected a gin factory at Griffin, and was there manufacturing gins the balance of his life. He was a man of fine physical development, of wonderful energy and industry, and, with the aid of a frugal, loving and congenial companion, the beautiful Miss Burdett, he forged to the front in business circles and accumulated a large fortune. In addition to his manufacturing interests and other properties, he owned a large plantation and about one hundred negro slaves; the latter emancipated as a result of the war of 1861-5. His wife, Mahaly, died about 1856, and he subsequently married Miss Lockhart of Augusta, Ga. There were born to Shatteen and Mahaly Mitchell fifteen children:

AMARINTHA MARTHA<sup>4</sup> SIMS (14) was born Mar. 22, 1844, at Island Shoals, Henry Co., Ga. She received her early education in the schools at Snapping Shoals, Ga.; later on she attended "Union Academy" in Newton Co., Ga. During the war she entered the Masonic Female College, at Covington, Ga., but as the war progressed the college was closed and this ended her collegiate course. She married James Richard Hightower Mar. 14,

John A. Clark (No. 69).

1869. Mr. Hightower was born near Stockbridge, Ga. His parents moved to Atlanta, Ga., where his early boyhood was spent. His mother died when he was twelve years old, and thus in early youth he was bereft of a mother's tender care and love. He entered the Confederate Army in the last years of the war between the States. After the close of the war, like most all Confederate soldiers, he was thrown entirely upon his own resources, with only a limited education. He proved equal to the occasion, and by close application to business, soon acquired a reasonable competency, but by an unfortunate business venture and unwise choice of a partner, was stripped of his accumulations and he was left to start anew with the care and responsibilities of a family to provide for. The same pluck and energy which stood him so well at first is again enabling him to succeed in business.

Mrs. Hightower is a model housekeeper; an affectionate wife; a congenial companion and a devoted mother. She shares with her husband his successes and his misfortunes, his joys and his sorrows. She is a true and faithful helpmeet. Children:

- 174. i. MINNIE PARKS<sup>5</sup>, b. Dec. 18, 1869; m. Stanley S. Bennet.
- 175. ii. ALMA CUSTIS, b. Apr. 27, 1871; m. Jas. D. Kilpatrick.

SUPHENA WORTH<sup>4</sup> SIMS (14) was born in Henry Co., Augusta, Ga.. In 1863 he was transferred to the department of Ga., Nov. 2, 1847; was educated at Jonesboro, Ga., and married Hopkins Turney Francis, a farmer, at the home of her parents, in Newton Co., Ga., Nov. 22, 1872.

Mr. Francis was born Nov. 4, 1840, at Jacksonville, Calhoun Co., Ala., and was educated at his native place. In the matter of religious belief he is a Methodist; and in politics a Democrat. He volunteered in the Confederate service in 1862, and was assigned to special duty in the subsistence department at headquarters of Gen. Ledletter, at Chattanooga, Tenn., and thence transferred to the Gulf at Mobile, Ala., under Gen. John T. Forney, and from there went to Vicksburg, Miss., in the field with the staff. After the siege of Vicksburg—not surrendering—went into headquarters, Gen. Polk, at Dernopolis, Ala., was sent to Montgomery, Ala., and following this, served in the field up to the time of the surrender in 1865.

Mr. Francis resides in Calhoun Co., Ala., P. O. address "Zula," where he has a good home and farm, and a large and interesting family of sons and daughters.

Mrs. Suphena W. Francis died Oct. 17, 1890, and was buried at Jacksonville, Ala. She was a consistent member of the Baptist Church; a devoted mother, and a true and affectionate companion. Children:

- v. ED. DERWOOD, b. at Carrollton, Ga., Aug. 25, 1883.
- vi. HOWARD KIMSEY, b. at Carrollton, Ga., Dec. 7, 1885.

66.

DR. JACK HENDERSON<sup>4</sup> SIMS (14) was born in Newton Co., Ga., Apr. 30, 1851, and graduated in medicine at the Atlanta

Medical College. He has been twice married. His first wife was Sallie Summers, of Conyers, Ga., who bore one child and died.

His second wife was Florence C. Staley, of Savannah, Ga. They were married in 1885.

Miss Staley was born in Savannah in 1863, and was educated at Savannah and Atlanta, Ga., Louisville, Ky., and Trenton, N. J. She is a descendant of the Staleys and Martins of England; the Cuylers of the Netherlands, and the Richardsons of Scotland. Her ancestors were among the makers and builders of the early American colonies. Their intermarriages were of the best; and their descendants are prominent in all the Atlantic Coast States.

Dr. Sims spent a winter in New York studying in the Polyclinic and post graduate schools; and took private lessons in special subjects. He is very prominent in his profession. They reside at Birmingham, Ala. Born of first marriage a son:

PAUL<sup>6</sup>, b. about 1878; m., no children; in produce trade, Memphis, Tenn.

Of second marriage a daughter:

MARWOOD ESTELLE CUYLER, b. at Milledgeville, Ga., in 1886.

67.

AMMIE PARKS<sup>4</sup> MCNAIR (15) was born in Henry Co., Ga., Dec. 28, 1845, and married Thomas Robert Penn, of Monticello, Ga., Feb. 16, 1869.

Mr. Penn was born near Monticello, June 30, 1844. They reside at Monticello, where they have a comfortable home and an interesting family of sons and daughters. Mr. Penn is a good and esteemed citizen, an affectionate husband and indulgent father.

Mrs. Penn, aided by their two cultured and refined daughters, conducts a popular newspaper The Jasper County News. She is an industrious and frugal woman, a good housekeeper, a real bread-winner, a very helpmeet to her husband; loved and esteemed by all who know her, and loved best by those who best know her.

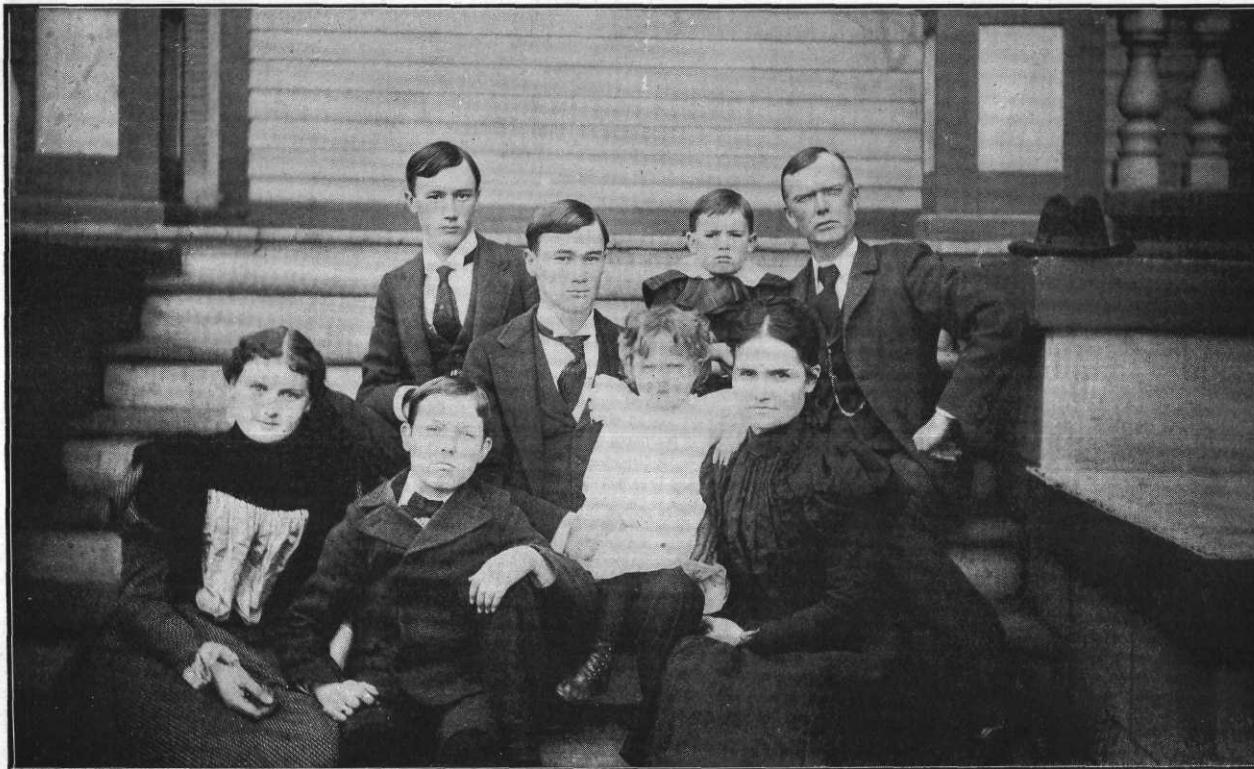

The religion of the family is Presbyterian, and all except one son are members of the Presbyterian Church. Children:

- i. GERTRUDE<sup>5</sup>, b. Sept. 29, 1870; d. same day.
- ii. MAUD CLARK, b. Sept. 24, 1871; and educated at the Monticello Male and Female Academy.

68.

MARY JUDSON<sup>4</sup> CLARK (16) was born in Chambers Co., Ala., Mar. 1, 1851. She received her early education at Pinelevel, Montgomery Co., and at Orion, Pike Co., Ala., and then entered the Judson Female Institute, at Marion, Ala., where she graduated in 1869, and again as post graduate in 1870. She was united in marriage at the residence of her parents in the city of Montgomery, Oct. 11, 1871, to Arthur Sidney Stewart, of Crenshaw Co., Ala.

Mr. Stewart was a son of J. J. and Elizabeth [McWhorter] Stewart, and was born in the city of Montgomery, Oct. 11, 1845. He received his preparatory education, as a boy, at Montgomery and Central Institute, Ala., and then entered Washington and Lee University, Va. while under the presidency of Gen. Robert E. Lee. In the latter institute he distinguished himself as a student, but because of circumstances beyond his control, left before graduating. At the time of his marriage he was engaged farming in Crenshaw Co., where he remained but a short while, and then moved to Montgomery Co., where he continued to farm until the fall of 1876, when he settled in the city of Montgomery, and engaged in the lumber trade, which he followed until the time of his death, Sept. 19, 1893, leaving his widow and four children well provided for. He was an exemplary Christian of Baptist faith; a member of the First Baptist Church of Montgomery. He was an intelligent and esteemed citizen, commanding the respect and confidence of all with whom he had business or social intercourse; was a kind and affectionate husband and father. In political affiliation, a Democrat, though never an aspirant for office. He was a member of three benevolent orders: United Workmen, William H. Clark, Family Group (No. 70).

Knights of Honor, and Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, and his remains were interred in the family lot in Oakwood cemetery, in the city of Montgomery, under the auspices and funeral rites of the two latter orders. His wife, an affectionate and congenial companion, a true and faithful helpmeet, was ever solicitous for his welfare and happiness, always sympathizing with and patiently nursing him in affliction, of which he had more than his share; more than falls to the lot of men generally. She resides at 222 Columbus street, Montgomery, Ala., where she has a good home, and where her children were reared to full age, well educated, and for the most part, have made their home with her to the present time. She is a member of the first Baptist Church of Montgomery; is a refined and cultured woman, and enjoys the friendship and esteem of a wide circle of friends.

There were born to Mr. and Mrs. Stewart one daughter and three sons:

Miss Wilson was born Jan. 8, 1856, in Montgomery Co., Ala., and was educated in the local schools. She is a consistent member of the Baptist Church; an amiable Christian woman, loved and esteemed by a large circle of friends. Children:

186.	i. HENRY WILSON <sup>5</sup> , b. Nov. 26, 1877; d. Aug. 3, 1900.
	ii. INEZ VIVIAN, b. Oct. 29, 1879; m. John Calvin Monroe.

70.

WILLIAM HENRY<sup>4</sup> CLARK (16) was born at Pinelevel, Montgomery Co., Ala., May 19, 1856, and was educated at Pinelevel and at Montgomery, attending several private schools in the latter place, and finally completed his education at Howard College, Marion, Ala. He is a practical business man, having filled a number of responsible positions in business establishments. He with his family, reside at Ocala, Fla., where he has charge of an extensive business in the manufacture and sale of barrels to the turpentine people.

William H. Clark and Josie Gardner were united in marriage at the residence of her parents, in the city of Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 11, 1877. Miss Gardner was born in Troy, Ala., Mar. 19, 1859, and received her education in the local schools where her father resided. She is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South; sincerely devoted to the interest of her church and always ready for any good word and work in its behalf. Since their residence in Ocala, Fla., she has been identified with the Christian workers of the First M. E. Church South, of that city. As the secretary of W. H. M. S., she takes great interest in the work of the organization. She is a member of the efficient teachers' corps of that well organized Sunday school, and has made a record for faithfulness in attending the sessions of the school and in attending the weekly teachers' meetings. She took the first year's course of the B. T. S. C. and stood a creditable examination, and while doing this she had upon her the many cares of a large household. She takes an interest in and is unremitting in the discharge of her duty in support of the pastor and his family. Her church delights to do her honor, and all her friends are honored by her friendship: "She stretcheth out her hand to the poor; yea, she reacheth forth her hand to the needy." "She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness." (Prov. 31:20, 26). Children:

education in the common schools of his native village, attending for several years a school conducted by Prof. James Stark. In 1870 the family moved to Montgomery. Here he attended several schools, the principal one being that of Prof. G. W. Thomas, who in effect, prepared him for college. In Oct., 1874, he entered the Howard College, Marion, Ala., a Baptist institution, and was graduated there in 1877. While in college he won the Sophomore medal for declamation and was a contributor to the college paper. In 1878 he was engaged to teach the classics in the high school of Montgomery. After a year's experience in teaching, he entered Harvard University as post graduate student. He here devoted the main part of his time to exploring the library in Gore Hall, and in the year he was there formed a superficial acquaintance with the literature of almost every nation. Returning to Ala., in 1879, he entered upon the study of the law, and in May, 1880, was admitted to the bar. In 1882, he attended the Summer course in law at the University of Virginia. His first partner in the practice of the law, was Mr. James Weatherly, now of Birmingham, Ala. He was later on associated for a short time with Mr. A. D. Sayre, now judge of the City Court of Montgomery, Ala. In 1885 he moved to Tex., and located in Cleburne, Johnson Co., going into business with Hon. Tillman Smith, one of the ablest lawyers at the Tex. bar. He was not pleased with Texas life, and, returning to Ala., he embarked in journalism as editor of the Selma Times, a daily newspaper at Selma, Ala., and the Montgomery Advertiser, of Montgomery, Ala., had this to say of him :

"He is the most fully equipped young man that has entered daily journalism in this State for a long time."

The Times was a paper of limited circulation for a daily, but the new editor managed to give it considerable importance by a bold and uncompromising advocacy of tariff reform, hard money and a thorough reform of the civil service. After leaving the Times he joined the staff of the Montgomery Advertiser, the leading daily in the State, and that paper said of him :

"The Advertiser is pleased to announce this morning that Mr. Thomas H. Clark is now on its editorial staff. He is a young man of splendid attainments and his short experience in journalism has shown his gifts and adaptation for the work of a live newspaper. In scholarship no young man in Alabama excells him, nor has he many equals in wide acquaintance with public men and affairs. He was reared in Montgomery and is well known throughout the State, more particularly from his recent connection with the Selma Times as editorial manager and writer. The Advertiser congratulates not only itself, but that wide public to whose pleasure and instruction his talents are from now to contribute."

He did not remain long with the Advertiser, nor longer in journalism. In Aug., 1887, he was tendered by Gov. Thomas Seay the position of recording secretary in his office, and, accepting, held this place during the remainder of Gov. Seay's two terms. His association with Gov. Seay, he is accustomed to speak of as among the most valuable experiences of his life. In 1891 he resumed the practice of the law, and was associated with Mr. W. H. Thomas, now judge of the criminal division of the City Court of Montgomery, under the firm name of Clark & Thomas. He has held a number of public positions. He was during four years' sessions of the Legislature, assistant secretary of the Senate. He represented his ward in the City Council of Montgomery, and resigned this post to enter upon the discharge of his duties as a member of the House of Representatives. He was elected to the next succeeding term of the Legislature, and at this term made speaker of the House. At the close of the session he was presented by the House with a silver service.

Mr. Clark was alternate-at-large to the Chicago Convention in 1892, and subsequently secretary of the Democratic State Committee. He has been a frequent contributor to the press on various subjects, more especially his home paper, The Advertiser, and the Evening Post and the Nation of N. Y. He has also delivered a large number of occasional addresses at Montgomery, Selma, Marion, Auburn, Ala., and Rome, Ga., and other points. In 1896 he was active in organizing the sound money movement in Ala., and became the candidate of the National Democratic party (Palmer and Buckner) for Congress in the 2d Ala. District. He was, of course, defeated. He has never been heard to express a syllable of regret at the course he then took. In Sept., 1897, he was appointed Supt. of the Law Library of Congress, commonly known as Supreme Court Library, and held this office for six years. In Dec., 1903, he resigned this post to re-enter the practice of the law in Washington, where he now resides.

Thomas H. Clark and Carrie Marks were united in marriage

Thomas H. Clark (No. 71).

Apr. 13, 1887, at St. John's Episcopal Church, Montgomery, Ala., the rector, the Rev. Mr. Stringfellow, officiating. Miss Marks was born June 6, 1858. She is a descendant of a long line of prominent and wealthy ancestry. The founder of the family in America being the English emigrant Marks, who married Elizabeth Hastings. He settled in Va., and had five sons and a daughter: Peter, John, James, Hastings, Thomas and Sarah. James Marks, son of the emigrant, was the great, great grandfather of Carrie Marks Clark. He lived in Albemarle Co., Va., where he was vestryman in the Fredericksville and Trinity Parish in 1762 (Mead's Old Churches of Va., Vol. II, page 43). He moved to Ga. soon after 1784. James Marks married Elizabeth Harvie, one of a family of nine brothers and sisters, Dec. 24, 1771. She weighed considerably more than three hundred pounds, and, and, it is said, was one of the most cheerful, sensible and agreeable women in any country, at any time, and was as good and kind as she was agreeable.

Mr. Marks was a very small man, weighing only about one hundred and twenty pounds. He was shrewd and sharp-witted. He was very plain in dress and economical in expenditures. He was devotedly attached to his wife, and his desire to please her made him often do what no other motive could have done. Mrs. Marks loved comfort, and her husband's indisposition to spend money was overcome so far as to cause him to build her the finest house on Broad river. Mr. and Mrs. Marks were the first of the Broad river people to quit the forms of the Episcopal Church for the devotion of the Methodist. They were the special friends of Bishop Asbery, who made their house his home when he visited Georgia. The first organized Methodist congregation on Broad river was founded in their neighborhood and through their influence.

Nicholas Meriweather Marks, son of James and Elizabeth Marks, was born May 21, 1777, and was baptized by the Rev. Matthew Murry, and died June 1, 1847. He married Annie Paul Matthews Feb. 6, 1806. She died Sept. 21, 1855.

William Matthews Marks, son of Nicholas M. Marks and Annie P. Matthews Marks, was born Feb. 1, 1807. She died Aug. 22, 1826, and he married (2d wife) Catherine Crain Dec. 22, 1831. Miss Crain was born Sept. 18, 1809, and died Nov. 19, 1895. She was a daughter of Spencer Crain, who resided near Monticello, Jasper Co., Ga.

James Marks, son of William Matthews Marks and Catherine Crain, was born Nov. 5, 1832, and died May 3, 1868. He Married Eliza Williams Means Jan. 16, 1855. Miss Means was born Sept. 1, 1837, and died Mar. 6, 1895.

Carrie Marks, daughter of James Marks and Eliza Means, married Thomas H. Clark as hereinbefore stated.

session of the North Ala. Conference held at Lafayette, Ala., Bishop Joseph S. Key presiding, and stationed at Goodwater, Ala., for the ensuing year. Rev. Mr. Francis had the honor of leading the North Ala. Conference in number of accessions on profession of faith, 138 having been converted under his ministry during the conference year of 1902. Life in the parsonage with him is happy. The home is presided over by the faithful wife and mother, formerly Miss Virginia A. Morris, to whom he was married Dec. 1, 1880, at Choccolocco, Ala. Miss Morris was born at Morrisville, Calhoun Co., Ala., Jan. 23, 1863. Her grandfather, Shadrack Morris, came to Ala. from N. C. about the year 1837, and settled in St. Clair Co., Ala., near where is now the town of Asheville. His father was a soildier in the Revolutionary War. His second son, Isaac G. Morris, settled in Calhoun Co., Ala., and with his brother built an extensive milling and manufacturing establishment, both of wood and iron products. Isaac G. Morris was married to Julia Baugh whose father represented Benton, now Calhoun Co., several terms in the Legislature. The marriage took place in 1850. Virginia, the fifth and youngest child, was married to James C. Frances as heretofore stated. She is a devoted, sweet-spirited Christian, her life and prayers supplementing the life and prayers of a Christian mother has been the means of bringing her husband and children into the church of God. A universal favorite with all classes of people wherever she goes, either in the homes of the wealthy or the cottages of the poor, she emphasizes the religion of Christ. She is an earnest and untiring worker in the church; visits the sick and afflicted and consoles the dying. She accepts joyfully all the light and shadows of the itinerant's life and is supremely happy in the work of a Methodist minister's wife. "Her children rise up and call her blessed and the heart of her husband doth safely trust in her." Of a bright sunny disposition, she is verily one of the "elect ladies," satisfied to work in the vineyard of the Master. Her life is filled with good deeds and words. Children:

- i. WILLIAM MILLER<sup>5</sup>.
- ii. JAMES CLARK.
- iii. JOHN MONTGOMERY.
- iv. CLARENCE EDWARD.

127.

HON. JOHN HENRY<sup>4</sup> MITCHELL (36) was born in Jasper Co., Ga., Apr. 6, 1833; moved with his parents when yet a lad to Spaulding Co., then known as Henry Co. Here he passed the years of his early life, getting his education at the "Oldfield" schools where they instilled principles of sterling honesty and integrity. Being the eldest son he was very intimately associated with his father and in the large machinery establishment owned by him, the son learned principles of mechanics that were of great value to himself and others in the troublous days at the close of the Civil War.

His knowledge of ginning, learned practically in his father's shops, enabled him to have the cotton successfully handled, even though so many of the gins throughout that portion of the State had been destroyed. Mr. Mitchell at the close of the war, like many other brave men, had to begin the battle of life with almost nothing. His wife, Rebecca Freeman, whom he had married in Coweta Co., Ga., Dec. 16, 1858, was a true and faithful helpmeet to him, and together they made their home upon one of the plantations of Ga., and by their united efforts he arose steadily to become one of the foremost planters of the State. He represented his county in the halls of legislation where he was ever known as a man of honor and unswerving rectitude. His beautiful home, known as "The Double Cabins," has ever been a place of refuge to the unfortunate and ever are its doors open to the stranger with a warm welcome. Miss Susan Blakely was an inmate of his home and the two sons of his sister, Mahala Cates, were received as members of his family upon the death of their mother. The little child whom Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell took for their own as an infant has ever been their pleasure and pride. In very early girlhood Nora Mitchell married Mr. J. H. Walker, and her three splendid young sons, Mitchell, Parker and J. H. are the joy and comfort of their grandparents. Mr. Mitchell has lived honored and respected by his fellow citizens. For sixteen years he acted as county commissioner and in all the various relations of his life he has been known as a man of incorruptible honesty.

JUDGE THOMAS JEFFERSON<sup>4</sup> BROWN (37) was born in Jasper Co., Ga., July 24, 1836, and went with his parents to Tex. in the winter of 1846-47.

Quoting from Year Book for Tex., 1901; p. 34 (C. W. Raynes):

“ * * * Judge Brown was admitted to the bar at Brenham in Aug., 1857; graduated from the Law Department of Baylor University (then at Independence) in 1858; was admitted to the bar by the Supreme Court of Texas January 6, 1859, and immediately thereafter engaged in the practice of his profession at McKinney, Collin County; entered the Confederate Army as Second Lieutenant of Company E, Col. Robert Taylor's regiment of cavalry, and was later promoted to Captain, but, after capable and gallant service, was compelled to resign by ill-health before the close of the war; after the general surrender formed a partnership with Hon. J. W. Throckmorton, which continued until 1885; moved to Sherman, Grayson Co. in 1872, where he has since resided; represented Grayson County in the House of the Twenty-first and Twenty-second legislatures; was appointed district judge in Aug., 1892, and was elected to that position in Nov. following; and in May, 1893, was appointed by Governor Hogg Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals for the Fifth Supreme District, but before he qualified was appointed Associate Justice of the Supreme Court by Governor Hogg to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Associate Justice J. L. Henry. * * * He is a member of the Christian Church and Masonic fraternity.

By his masterly advocacy of the Railroad Commission bill passed by the House of the Twenty-first Legislature, through his efforts, and defeated in the Senate, and by the breadth and soundness of his views and the courage and ability with which he sustained them, and by the signal qualities of leadership he displayed, he acquired a State reputation.

While thus early distinguishing himself in the arena of politics and statesmanship, his true forte is that of a lawyer. Successful as a practitioner beyond the limits that usually satisfy ambition, both as regards reputation and securing the solid rewards that serve as a firm foundation for it to rest upon, nevertheless, his taste and powers of mind better fit him for a judge of a court of last resort and in that position he is doing the portion of his work in life that will be most lasting, most beneficial to Texas to-day and in the future and earn for him a place on the scroll that this generation will hand down to later times inscribed with the names of those who deserve to be honorably remembered by posterity."

Judge Brown was united in marriage to Louisa T. Estes, at McKinney, Collin Co., Tex., Aug. 7, 1859. Children:

Four daughters<sup>s</sup> living.

ERVIN FLOURNAY<sup>4</sup> BROWN (37) was born Feb. 14, 1847, in Washington Co., Tex., was educated in the common schools of Texas. The Civil war intervening, his education was necessarily limited. In 1865 he returned to the Co. seat of the Co. of his birth and worked his way through a school at that place, taught by W. W. Wheeler, youngest son of Justice Wheeler of the first Supreme Court of the State for eighteen months and studied medicine at the same time. When Mr. Brown had prepared himself to attend medical lectures, he concluded he preferred to practice law, and went to McKinney, Collin Co., North Tex. and there studied law under Throckmorton and Brown, a firm composed of Gov. J. W. Throckmorton and T. J. Brown his brother. Dec. 10, 1868, he married Icy P. Burns, of Kosse, Limestone Co., Tex., and in Mar., 1869, was admitted to practice law at McKinney by the district court and soon thereafter was admitted to practice in the Supreme and Federal Courts of Texas. Mr. Brown practiced his profession alone for a few years; and in 1872 formed a partnership, Throckmorton, Brown & Bro., composed of his preceptors and himself. The firm was continued until about 1880 when T. J. Brown having removed from McKinney, withdrew from the firm and he and his old partner J. W. Throckmorton continued to practice under the firm name of Throckmorton and Brown, in Collin and adjoining counties until his partner's health failed so as to force him out of the practice in 1885. In Aug. 1886 Mr. Brown moved to Sherman, Grayson Co., Tex., and has continued the practice of his profession there.

The religion of the family is Baptist. Mr. Brown writing, says of his wife, "Mrs. Brown has ever been faithful as wife, mother and counsellor in her family; and it is due to her good sense, judgment, piety and never failing energy and indomitable will that success has crowned our efforts to raise and educate our children, make good citizens of them and lead them to Christ their Savior. In politics the Browns are Democratic and are prohibitionists to the core."

FORMS FOR CONTINUING FAMILY RECORD

The following forms are intended for use continuing the family record in direct line of descent of persons possessing a copy of the work. It would be impracticable to provide for continuing the record in all the lines, hence, it is contemplated that but one family of each generation will be recorded, that being the family of the person who by gift, inheritance or otherwise takes the book as it descends from generation to generation.

It may be remarked that there are many persons who have ancestors named in the work, but whose names do not appear, and others whose names do appear, but of whom little is recorded, because the compiler was not in possession of the needed information. To all such it is suggested, if the required information is at hand, the record may be perfected, beginning with the last ancestor named, using the following forms and observing the system of reference by numbers. Use the preceding pages of writing paper for index to these forms.

It is to be regretted that so little attention has been given to the preservation of information relating to our ancestors. Thousands of persons are to-day searching records, advertising and corresponding, seeking information of their ancestry and kindred.*

May not the compiler hope that this little book will be appreciated and preserved for many years to come, and he be kindly remembered for his arduous labor in its preparation?
